

LEAF in 2009

farming • food • environment • countryside • communities

From the President

2009 is a significant year for LEAF; eighteen years since its foundation. Back in 1991, David Richardson had an idea and, with other colleagues, put together thoughts on how, in addition to producing food, farmers could improve their natural habitats through Integrated Farm Management. The basic concept being agreed, a Chief Executive was sought to put these ideas into practice. Caroline Drummond became the first and only person to fill this post and her enthusiasm, her powers of persuasion and her 'can do' approach are as strong as they were eighteen years ago. In recognition of this, Caroline was awarded an MBE in this year's Birthday Honours List.

LEAF has had three chairmen, David Richardson, Robert Campbell and Tony Worth, who is shortly to be succeeded by Stephen Fell. Their experience and support has seen LEAF develop in new ways. The latest scheme has seen the launch of the Green Box, enabling farmers to monitor the way in which they look after the earth's natural resources.

This has been a busy year for LEAF; a seminar in January, the Future of Farming Week in March, Open Farm Sunday in June and a conference in December – four major occasions which require a great deal of hard work.

Caroline and Justine Hards were there from the start and have worked with many remarkable colleagues. This small team punch 'above its weight' and my thanks and congratulations go out to them all. In spite of the difficult global financial situation, this team, LEAF farmers, and our sponsors have ensure that LEAF continues its important work, producing food sustainably, caring for the environment and most importantly, demonstrating how it is done.

Congratulations on a remarkable eighteen year record.

Baroness Hazel Byford, DBE

From the Chairman

I am proud to have been Chairman of LEAF for the past five years and am pleased to be handing over the baton to my successor with the charity in a good position to face the future. The strategy we set out in 2008 continues to be the basis on which the organisation moves forward.

There have been many highlights during the year – including the growth in LEAF Marque with increasing numbers of farmers, both here in the UK and overseas signing up. Interest is being expressed by a range of retailers and a growing number of product lines now carry the LEAF Marque logo.

Another highlight of the year was the launch of the LEAF Green Box by the Defra Secretary of State, Hilary Benn. Our task in the year ahead is to promote it widely to farmers and use the data gathered to build a clear picture of the environmental benefits of Integrated Farming. Open Farm Sunday was again a huge success and even the rain did not put off the 140 000 visitors.

LEAF has also played a significant role in the development and launch of the Campaign for the Farmed Environment and we look forward playing our part in the selection and training of beacon farms farms who will play a key part in delivering the messages and ensuring the Campaign succeeds.

During the year, LEAF together with the Sensory Trust, started work on a three and half year project, funded by Natural England and the Big Lottery Fund, to connect disengaged groups and individuals with nature and the countryside, through food and farming. We greatly look forward to this new partnership. Our work with our European EISA partners in promoting Integrated Farming throughout the EU continues to flourish and I delighted to be remaining as Chairman of EISA for the coming year.

Finally, as I retire as Chairman, I want to express my gratitude for the support that the Board and Trustees have given me during my term of office. And also to the LEAF Team at Stoneleigh for their hard work and application which allows LEAF to 'punch well above its weight'; and to everyone who has been involved with LEAF over the past 18 years.

Tony Worth

www.frescagroup.co.uk

LEAF really matters to Fresca. We work with farmers and growers every day. We see first hand the benefits of integrated farm management and implementing best practice – on UK land and abroad.

As one of the largest and best-respected suppliers of fresh produce in the UK, our technical staff are strong advocates of the LEAF Marque scheme. We introduce, encourage and support growers with the scheme and indeed, we adopt IFM and LEAF principles on our own sites. That's why we're pleased to be associated with this publication and with LEAF. To learn more about Fresca Group and our constituent businesses, please see www.frescagroup.co.uk

From the Chief Executive

2009 was another exciting and challenging year. Significantly, we have reached a turning point at LEAF. The legacy of the last 18 years has put us in a strong position to support our members to take their businesses forward. I am hugely proud of what we have achieved – helping farmers adopt more sustainable farming practices and reconnecting consumers with their food.

We have seen the development of LEAF Marque and the growth in overseas members becoming LEAF Marque certified and our new Green Box will help farmers capture environmental evidence of the benefits of Integrated Farming. Open Farm Sunday was, again a huge success. Farms all over the country welcomed thousands of people into the countryside to learn about food, farming and nature. Our Future of Farming Week raised our profile significantly and we saw many farmers pledging to do 'one thing for the future of farming'. We also embarked on an exciting new project with The Sensory Trust – 'Let nature feed your senses' helping disengaged groups develop a life long love of nature through visits to farms, nature reserves and city farms.

People lie at the very heart of LEAF. My grateful thanks to our loyal members, sponsors, all our Demonstration Farmers, Innovation Centres, Supporters and Funders. I also want to thank our outgoing Chairman, Tony Worth who has ably chaired LEAF through some turbulent times. My team at Stoneleigh deserves a special mention, for their dedication and hard work – their unfailing support and energy never ceases to amaze me and I am indebted to them all. A particular thanks to Roly Puzey who has left LEAF to take up farming – he has been a great asset and we will all miss him. To everyone who contributes to LEAF's uniqueness – thank you.

This review details some of LEAF's outstanding successes, but we recognise that huge challenges lie ahead. As we look ahead to our next eighteen years, it is my determination that LEAF retains its reputation and position, but also extends the reach and depth of our services. We have ambitious plans for the year ahead and greatly look forward to working with our new Chairman, Stephen Fell. We are looking to build on our industry partnerships to take IFM forward, embrace new ways to get the farming message out to consumers and build up strong evidence of what integrated farming offers to farmers, consumers, the countryside, our economy and society as a whole.

I am confident that LEAF will more than rise to these challenges and look forward to working together with you to ensure we are in a strong position to face future challenges head on.

Caroline Drummond, MBE

LEAF through the seasons

Here are some of our 2009 highlights

SPRING 2009

17 workshops are held all over the UK to help farmers get geared up for Open Farm Sunday.

Anthony Goggin joins the LEAF team to assist Jeremy Boxall with LEAF Marque technical matters.

LEAF works together with AIC, FWAG, NFU and CLA to update the paper based Tried and Tested nutrient management plan – launched in March 2009.

LEAF calls on every farm in the UK to 'step up to the Marque' during our Future of Farming Week. A programme of activities and events takes place.

SUMMER 2009

Over 200 farmers attend LEAF's technical field day held in partnership with the GWCT's Allerton Project in Leicestershire to help farmers get to grips with some of the latest IFM research.

We celebrate our 18th birthday in June and run a Celebration Prize Draw with some fantastic prizes donated by our members – winners were announced at the Royal Show.

425 farms all over the UK get involved in Open Farm Sunday on the 7th June and welcome a massive 140 000 visitors.

We get lots of national press coverage following the great success of Open Farm Sunday and the press launches held in Buckinghamshire and Scotland.

LEAF Demonstration Farmers get together in Wiltshire for our annual training event.

LEAF's updated Virtual Farm Walk goes live! Aimed at 7-11 year olds it takes visitors on a guided tour of an environmentally friendly farm.

LEAF and FWAG join forces on a new initiative to help farmers become LEAF Marque accredited.

LEAF and The Sensory Trust are awarded a Big Lottery Grant for a flagship project to get young people, disabled groups and older people out onto farms.

LEAF has a stand at the Waitrose Food Festival, Cereals and the Royal Highland Show – it is great to meet up with lots of LEAF members and Demonstration Farmers.

Caroline Drummond is recognised in the Queen's Birthday Honours List and receives an MBE for services to the agricultural industry.

LEAF gets involved in an exciting three year project, led by Waitrose to help improve the prosperity of small scale African farmers.

LEAF continues to host hundreds of visits to its Demonstration Farms throughout the year so people can learn about sustainable farming.

LEAF through the seasons

Here are some of our 2009 highlights

AUTUMN 2009

Over 100 host farmers, sponsors and visitors attend a meeting in London to celebrate this year's OFS and hear about our plans for next year on the 13th June!

Caroline is awarded the 2009 Ecological Engagement Award, presented by The British Ecological Society.

Representatives from across the industry attend the launch of the LEAF Green Box by the Rt Hon Hilary Benn MP.

LEAF member John Charles-Jones shared the Fourth Plinth in Trafalgar Square with the giant LEAF Wellington Boot and highlights the work of farmers throughout the UK!

From the Trustees

The accounts included within this report are a summary of information relating to both the statement of financial activities and the balance sheet extracted from the accounts of LEAF for the year ended 31 March 2009, which were approved by the trustees on the 15 June 2009 and have been audited without qualification.

The accounts will be submitted to the Charity Commission and to the Registrar of Companies. The summary accounts may not contain sufficient information to allow for a full understanding of the financial affairs of the charity. For further information, the full annual accounts and the auditors' report on those accounts should be consulted. Copies can be obtained from LEAF.

From LEAF

Our members, both corporate and individual, remain LEAF's core strength. Every member is stating a belief in LEAF's ideas and vision: without them we could not function and we owe them all our deepest gratitude. We have a number of initiatives planned for next year, which we hope will boost membership. Trusts, major donors and companies have been key in helping us deliver many of our activities including Green Box, Open Farm Sunday and our Gala Dinner at the end of 2009. Particular thanks go to all our members, individuals, farmers, colleges, companies and to our many sponsors who supported Open Farm Sunday – we could not be as effective without their support.

LEAF is not short on ideas, but what stops up turning these ideas into reality is funding. We want to do more in the year ahead to take a fresh look at our corporate membership package as well as increase our demonstration farm activities at a local level.

As the demand for our services increases, we will have to find new and better ways of ensuring our future is more stable. With the support of our members and the backing of the industry, we are confident for the future.

Looking Forward

Working to lead the way in sustainable farming

What we want to achieve in 2010

We hope to see even more farmers getting involved in next year's Open Farm Sunday on the 13th June 2010.

We will promote the Green Box and encourage farmers to carry out their own on-farm monitoring.

- Develop a new approach to knowledge sharing through our existing network of Demonstration Farms and Innovation Centres with a new initiative called the Sustainable Innovation Network.
- Continue to build on our partnerships with Waitrose, M&S, Morrisons and other retailers to encourage wider uptake of the LEAF Marque.
- See an increase in the number of farmers, both here in the UK and overseas carrying out the LEAF Audit and becoming LEAF Marque accredited.
- Provide new opportunities for disengaged people to foster a lifelong love of nature through food and farming, through 'Let nature feed your senses' visits to farms and nature reserves across England. Visits will engage visitors' senses through inclusive activities that demonstrate the links between food, farming and everyday nature.
- Hold another successful Open Farm Sunday event on the 13th June 2010 – with more farms taking part and more people visiting their local farm to learn about how their food is grown and what farmers do to care for the countryside.
- Hold technical field days with corporate and college members, including Harper Adams Agricultural College, to enable LEAF members to get the latest information and research on key issues facing farmers.
- Increase the number of people and companies joining LEAF and look at new ways to engage with all our members corporate, college, individual farmers and 'Friends of LEAF'.
- Continue to work closely with our industry partners on joint initiatives and continue to meet with key Government ministers to press the case for Integrated Farm Management.
- Help farmers to improve their communication skills through the 'Speak Out' initiative – continue to promote the Virtual Farm Walk, farm notice boards and the Speak Out CD-rom.

We will look at new ways of engaging with our nationwide network of Demonstration Farms and Innovation Centres

Open Farm Sunday takes place on the 13th June 2010 – we want to make it even bigger and better!

We want more farmers to achieve LEAF Marque accreditation to demonstrate their environmental credentials

Who's Who at LEAF

We rely on the support of so many individuals. Space does not allow us to mention them all, but particular thanks to all our Demonstration Farmers and Innovation Centres and to everyone involved on our management and technical committees. To all these people and the many others who give their time and expertise to support us, we owe our grateful thanks.
